Getting to know incoming UCHS softball coach Carissa Owenby By Todd Forrest

Sports Editor sports@nganews.com During the spring, Union

County High School selected assistant coach Carissa Owenby as the fast-pitch softball program's third head coach, following the departure of former skipper Stephen Mitch-

A Hayesville, North Carolina graduate, Owenby takes over the Lady Panthers' job with head coaching experience after leading the Hiwassee Dam, North Carolina program ahead of her arrival in Blairsville.

Owenby played her college ball at UNC-Pembroke before graduating from Western Carolina in 2013. Upon earning her degree, she began teaching at Martins Creek while coaching at Hiwassee Dam, where she spent five years before taking over the Union County middle school program for two seasons.

During the 2021 season, Owenby jumped to the high school team, where she worked under Coach Mitchell during the Lady Panthers' Elite Eight run.

Since its inception in 2005, Union County's fastpitch softball program has remained one of the school's most consistent postseason contenders, qualifying for the State playoffs in 13 of the last 14 years, winning two region titles and finishing as the Class AA runner-up in 2010.

The North Georgia News caught up with the new coach earlier this month after Owenby and her husband, Carissa and Kody Owenby with Sadie, their oldest child.

Kody, welcomed their second daughter, Nora, in May.

NGN: What attracted you to the Union County job in the beginning? You were the head coach at Hiawassee Dam, but then you left a couple of years ago to become the middle school coach at Union.

CO: My husband (UCHS 2007 grad Kody Owenby) got a job at Union County, and I knew we wanted to have kids eventually, so I wanted to be in the same area. I told him I would apply and see what happens because I was the head was kind of hard to leave. But [Union] told me I could coach middle school, and I thought, okay, that sounds good. I was really excited.

NGN: Now that you're a high school head coach again, what do you want to establish on day one and during year

CO: I want to mold good kids that we will be proud to send out into the community one day. We hope to build kids that can become solid members of the community.

NGN: I know you've got coach at Hiwassee Dam, and it a lot going on off the field, but Owenby will lean upon returning ace Sierra Burnette this fall. Over two seasons in the circle, the rising-junior has compiled a 12-9 record with a 2.91 ERA, a 1.33 WHIP and 87 strikeouts. Photo/Todd Forrest how are you balancing a new daughter while taking over a new program, especially during these summer months?

CO: We don't have a lot going on right now, but we're going to hold some camps at the end of June. We're most likely going to have some games in July, but the last time I checked, the schedule still was not finished. We should know more about the games by July 1. The games we do have scheduled are during the weeks of [July] 11th and [July] 18th.

NGN: It helps that you got to know these girls as an assistant coach, and I'm sure Coach Mitchell was also a big help during the transition.

CO: He's been fantastic. He's been very helpful in getting me all set up. And yeah, the transition has been pretty smooth because I've coached most of these girls already in middle school, with the exception of the upcoming freshmen NGN: You've already had tryouts, correct? How was the turnout among the returning players and those incoming freshmen?

CO: We had tryouts already and I think we're going to be pretty good. We're going to be a little young, but overall, I believe we will be very competitive.

NGN: Have you finalized your coaching staff?

CO: Yes. Haley Blaylock is coming up to help the high school team this year. But I'm very grateful for my assistant coaches. Kaitlyn Seabolt, Robby Roxbury and Haley Blaylock have been awesome and I'm excited to have their help. I actually coached Haley at Hiwassee Dam, so I'm happy to have her.

Melissa Collins, Vicki Davis and Joy Patton have also been a big help, especially with the Diamond Club. I didn't know anything about the Diamond Club, but they've been NGN: Is a coaching career something you've always wanted to pursue?

CO: When my playing days ended, I was like, what now? I love softball and didn't want it to end, but I knew that coaching was a way that I could keep it a part of my life. Hopefully, I can help these girls love it the way I do.

Men's Basketball: Panthers show signs of improvement at UNG, North Forsyth camps

By Todd Forrest Sports Editor sports@nganews.com

The Union County men completed the final week of summer games with six wins in 11 meetings between the University of North Georgia (UNG) and North Forsyth camps.

Currently, Union County is hosting its youth camp through Wednesday before the Georgia High School Association's mandatory July 4 dead week. Upon their return next month, the Panthers will spend the remainder of the summer in the weight room and hosting open-gym pick-up games. Union County's final week of competition opened at UNG on Monday, June 20, where they won six of nine games over three days. The junior varsity team also participated in six games during two days in Dahlonega. The Panthers faced seven opponents from higher classifications at UNG, in addition to their victories over Class A's Landmark Christian and Class AA's Gordon Central. Against the larger schools, Union County's signature win came over Loganville, who went 18-11 last year and reached the Class 5A

Elite Eight. the Panthers defeated Class AAA private school Westminster (twice) and 6A Riverwood, while falling to Creekview (6A), Midtown (5A, formerly Grady High) and River Ridge, going 24-6 in 6A.

Central by four." Playing shorthanded at North Forsyth, Garrett used a seven-man rotation that consisted of five sophomores, a junior and a senior. On top of the one missing regular, the Panthers are still without a handful of football players, but that hasn't impacted the scoring, according to Garrett.

So going into the fall, we're going to be doing a lot of running to try and prepare for the season."

The Union County Lady Panthers basketball team and new head coach Brad Cochran hosted a youth camp last week (pictured), then split a pair of summer games at Walnut Grove on Thursday. Additional coverage, a coacl interview and extra photos from the youth camp and last week's summer games will be available in next week' North Georgia News. The football team, meanwhile, visited White County last Thursday for a shared practice and 7-on-7 action. The Panthers will now take some time off ahead of the GHSA dead week. Kurt Busch's only regret about his runner-up finish was not being more aggressive on the final restart. "I wanted to throw some
